RELOCATION: Where Should You Live?

In the early 1970s I discovered a fascinating way to use astrology for relocation. I termed it "Local Space" and along with "Astro*Carto*Graphy," another popular relocation technique, Local Space is now used by astrologers all over the world. And it is very simple.

Just imagine that right after you were born your dad picked you up for the very first time and holding you walked to the window and looked out. As he looked at the sky he could see the Sun rising (let's say) to the east, Venus setting in the north-east, and so on.

The direction of the Sun or Venus is not only a direction in the heavens but that same Sun or Venus line plotted on a map runs through a whole series of cities. Those cities are in the direction of a planet, Venus or the Sun, or what-have-you? This is the beauty of Local Space.

The Sun, Moon, and all the planets at the moment of your birth are also lines on a map, lines that not only have an exact direction, but that also run through city after city. When these heavenly directions are plotted on a map of the Earth, you have your Local Space chart. It is that simple.

Much of traditional astrology has to do with waiting until planets come into aspect with one another and this can take a long time. You might, for example, wait years for Jupiter (a career planet) to come into a favorable aspect. With Local Space, you don't have to wait. You can travel to, vacation at, or relocate to a city in the direction of Jupiter at any time. In other words, Local Space allows you to have planetary aspects in space that are similar in effect to the traditional planetary aspects in time. Move in space rather than time.

I have made it a habit not to push my own products on Facebook, but this is an exception. This new Local Space Report that I and my team here at Matrix Software have created is really helpful. This 39 page report contains not only a complete interpretation of your natal chart and (any city you might like to consider relocating to) but also allows you to see-at-a-glance cities all over the map that you may also know and have been to.

For example, in my birth Local Space Chart, my Jupiter line runs from Lancaster, PA (where I was born) right near Ann Arbor, Michigan, which was where I first became an astrologer, a musician, and a number of other factors that determined my career. Ann Arbor was right on my career line! You don't have to be an astrologer to see these lines on the map.

I include here just a few of the many illustrated pages that make up the Local Space Report. It is worth looking into and while it does cost something to purchase, you can reference it your entire life. For those interested, you can see an entire sample report and ordering details here:

Look for the Local Space report on the right-hand side of the page, a little ways down. Let me know how you like it.

Here is a list of major cities in the United State, along with some brief keywords if they figure in your natal chart significantly. These cities are also fairly evenly distributed in difference sections of the map, to give you some sign of planet activity in that region, in case you are interested in other towns nearby. You may wish to have a Local Space report for additional locations.

Highlights

Conjunctions for Lancaster, PA

Here we are looking at which of the planets are very close to one another in the Local Space Chart, suggesting that they are combining their qualities interdependently with one another. When two planets are brought together (conjunction) in the Local Space Chart, this not only combines the nature of the two planets, but brings them both into higher focus, for better or for worse. Some planet combinations are more harmonious than others. Here are the combinations that are present in this location along with some idea as to what they might indicate.

Controlled Feelings

As a Natal Location:

As a rule, you may be given to sober or somber thoughts, perhaps sometimes a little too heavy for those around you, but these thoughts can turn into solid plans for organization or re-organization, given a chance. Making plans to establish better self-discipline are skills you have.

Emotional Insight

As a Natal Location:

You naturally tend always to have new insight into your emotions, into the mind or the mind of the public, and the past, in general. You can be fired up with insights.

Practical Insight

As a Natal Location:

You have a mind that is very at home when it comes to breaking through, and overcoming obstacles. You enjoy making insights and innovations into something practical, useful - lightning in a bottle.

Transformation

As a Natal Location:

Others may find you deeply intense, perhaps even disturbingly so, and you may not even be aware of this quality within yourself. Your very presence can be somewhat of an intense experience, and may instigate transformation and change. These are very inward and potent qualities.

Highlights for cities are pointed out, complete with interpretative text, keywords, and a tarot-like graphic card.
