

SUDDENLY SUMMER!

March 20, 2012

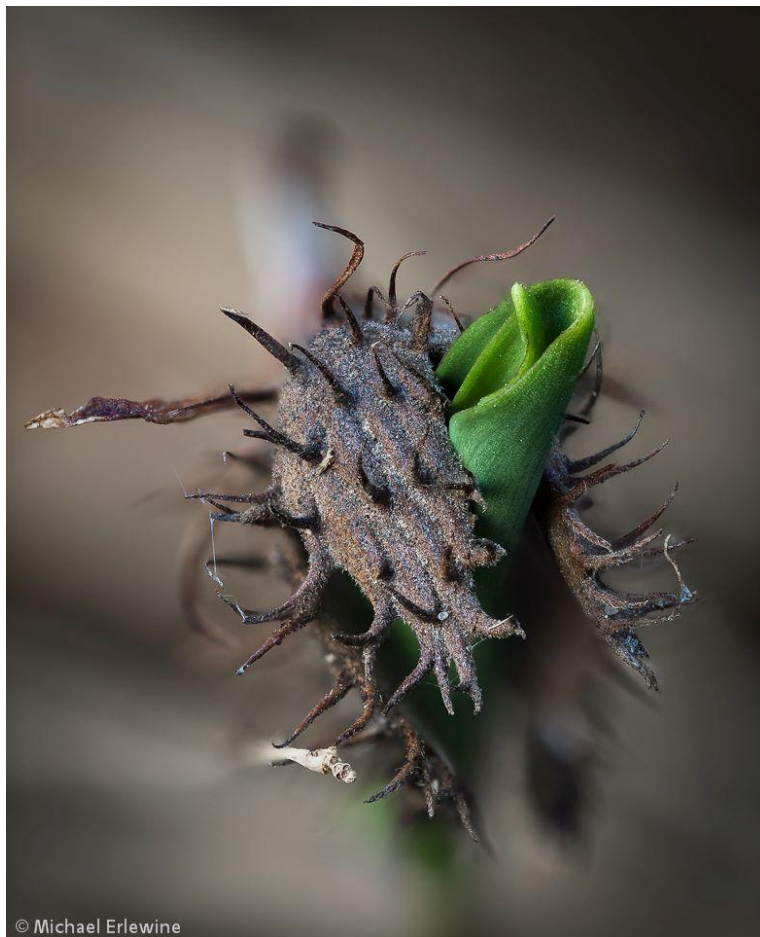

By Michael Erlewine (Michael@Erlewine.net)

It would seem, at least for a time, summer has sprung full-blown here in Michigan. Just being outside again is glorious and it is actually hot! How long this will last I have no idea, but I am enjoying it a lot. The sun on my face and the warm breezes are so welcome. How is the weather where you are?

I enclose a little poem for those who like this kind of thing.

HEART HEARING

Although I won't,
Often listen,
My heart,
Always,
Wants to hear.

© Michael Erlewine