

UPDATE ON GERBERA BUD

February 23, 2011

By Michael Erlewine (Michael@Erlewine.net)

A Beauty!

She is no longer just a bud and has spent the day unfolding, working in a circle, and by tomorrow she should fully be open. Her flower is lovely you must admit and she follows the sun in its travel across the sky. She is good company along with my dog. My wife will be back from her one-month retreat at the monastery next Monday.

And she has a little sister just starting up!

